

De Martino

Legado is a range of wines of great intensity and complexity from exceptional vineyards. This Chardonnay from Limarí is intense, full-bodied and has high acidity and is marked by the minerality of the calcareous soils in the region.

Legado Reserva Chardonnay 2023

Robert Parker (RP) : 92 Points (2018)

The 2018 Legado Chardonnay was produced with fruit from the Espinal vineyard from Tabalí in Limarí, and it's a textbook barrel-fermented and barrel-aged Chardonnay from a cooler year but with good ripeness and superb acidity. The wine matured in barrel for 18 months, and it's really impressive at this price point. It's serious and harmonious, with a chalky sensation on the palate. 57,653 bottles produced. It was bottled in October 2019.

Robert Parker (RP) : 91 Points (2017)

The 2017 Legado Chardonnay was produced with fruit from Limarí on stony volcanic soils with clay and limestone. The drought between 2013 and 2015 killed some vineyards and increased the salinity of the soils, which is reflected in the wines. And 2017 was a low-yielding year, even in young vineyards like this one planted in 2009. The juice from pressing the full clusters fermented in used oak barrels with indigenous yeasts, and only 10% of the volume underwent malolactic. It matured in barrels for 14 months. The whole Legado range shows very varietal, more so in the Chardonnay than the Sauvignon Blanc, with the chalky texture of the limestone soils. Starting with the 2015 vintage, this wine is produced with grapes from Tabalí. Great for the price. 56,498 bottles produced. It was bottled in July 2018.

James Suckling (JS) : 91 Points (2014)

A solid white with sliced apple and lemon aromas and flavors. Medium body. Hints of minerals too. (5/2016)
