Stellenbosch, South Africa

Region and Vineyards

The Simonsberg sub-region of Stellenbosch is renowned for producing some of South Africa's most distinctive wines, and Kanonkop's Black Label Pinotage is no exception. The vineyards used for this wine are planted on the slopes of the Simonsberg Mountain, where the soils consist mainly of decomposed granite and Hutton. These soils are well-drained and rich in minerals, enabling the vines to dig deep into the earth, producing concentrated and flavorful grapes.

The vines used for the Black Label Pinotage are 67 years old, some of the oldest Pinotage vines in South Africa. These dry-farmed vines, which rely solely on natural rainfall, yield only 2.8 tons per hectare, contributing to the wine's extraordinary intensity and complexity. The harsh growing conditions result in smaller berries with concentrated flavors, delivering a Pinotage that is both powerful and nuanced.

Winemaking

The Kanonkop Black Label Pinotage is made from 100% Pinotage, a variety uniquely South African in origin, created in 1925 as a cross between Pinot Noir and Cinsaut. The grapes were hand-harvested and fermented in open-top concrete fermenters, where the floating skins were punched down by hand every two hours to ensure optimal extraction of color, flavor, and tannins.

After just 3.5 days, the juice was drawn off the skins, and the wine underwent malolactic fermentation. The wine was then aged for 18 months in 100% new 225L French Nevers oak barrels, which impart subtle layers of sweet spice and dark chocolate, enhancing the wine's complexity without overshadowing the fruit. With only 1,150 cases produced, the Black Label Pinotage is a rare and coveted wine, known for its bold character and impeccable balance.

Did you know?

Pinotage, the grape variety used in Kanonkop Black Label, is a uniquely South African creation. It was developed in 1925 by Professor Abraham Perold, who crossed Pinot Noir with Cinsaut (locally known as Hermitage). This hybrid grape was designed to combine the elegance of Pinot Noir with the robustness of Cinsaut, and today it is considered South Africa's signature grape variety. The Black Label Pinotage is one of the finest expressions of this indigenous variety, made from some of the oldest Pinotage vines in the country.

Wine Pairing Ideas

- Barbecued venison: The gamey flavors of venison pair beautifully with the wine's dark fruit and smoky undertones, while the rich tannins complement the meat's texture.
- Roast duck with berry sauce: The sweetness of the berry sauce enhances the fruitiness of the wine, while the wine's structure holds up well against the richness of the duck.
- Aromatic curries: The complex spice notes in the wine, along with its bold fruit profile, make it an ideal match for flavorful curries.
- Pork belly: The wine's velvety tannins and dark fruit flavors provide a perfect counterbalance to the rich, succulent texture of pork belly.
