

Errazuriz

This Reserva Carmenère has a deep colour and intense flavours of forest fruits with spicy and smoky complexity.

Max Reserva Carmenère 2022

Aconcagua Valley, Chile

Beautiful deep purplish-red in colour, this wine opens with notes of sweet spice and a bit of chocolate, followed by a layer of black fruit that builds alongside varietal notes that recall black pepper, soy sauce, and roasted red pepper.

Flavourful and intense on the palate, with excellent typicity and notes of smooth tobacco and graphite on the finish.

Balanced texture with firm, sweet tannins and refreshing acidity that foretells its excellent cellaring potential.

Alcohol :14,00 %

Composition: 100% Carménère

Max Reserva Carmenère 2022

James Suckling (JS) : 91 Points (2020)

Spiced red plums, cherries, olives and red peppers, following through to a smooth, polished palate with medium body and creamy tannins. Velvety and so drinkable.

Wine Enthusiast (WE) : 91 Points (2018)

The spicy blackberry aroma has an herbal edge and is lifted by a hint of lemony oak, while this is racy and not the least bit lazy or heavy. Tomatoey plum, berry, peppery spice, chocolate and licorice flavors span a wide spectrum, while this is comported and balanced through the finish. If you like honest Carmenère, this is for you. Drink through 2024.

Robert Parker (RP) : 90 Points (2018)

I had not tasted the Carmenere from the Max vineyards for a while until they presented the still-untasted 2018 Max Reserva Carmenere. The grapes were hand picked early in the morning and went through a sorting table before being crushed and put in stainless steel to ferment. The wine matured for 12 months in French oak barrels, 30% of them new. It's intensely herbal and spicy, varietal and defined, with clean aromas and focused flavors. The palate is juicy and tender, with moderate acidity and a soft mouthfeel. Barrel Sample: 89-90
