Vergelt's Gott Gruner Veltliner 2019

Wachau, Austria

Region and Vineyards

The Ried Schön vineyard is located in the cooler subregion of Spitzer Graben within Wachau, Austria. The vines grow on steep terraces with soils rich in schist, which imbue the wine with its characteristic intense minerality. The vineyard's high elevation and cool microclimate encourage slow ripening, resulting in wines with vibrant acidity and complex, layered flavors. The vineyard is organically farmed—although not certified—reflecting Muthenthaler's commitment to sustainability and natural viticulture.

These challenging conditions produce low yields of Grüner Veltliner, but the fruit is highly concentrated, with grapes that express the unique terroir of the region. The cooler climate of Spitzer Graben is key to maintaining the freshness and balance that define the wine's profile.

Winemaking

The Vergelt's Gott Grüner Veltliner is crafted with a philosophy of minimal intervention, allowing the natural character of the fruit and the terroir to shine through. After hand-harvesting, the grapes are gently pressed and fermented in large oak foudres. The wine is then aged for 12 months on its lees in 600-liter oak barrels, which adds complexity and texture without overwhelming the purity of the fruit.

Muthenthaler's choice of using large, neutral oak barrels ensures that the focus remains on the minerality and vibrant acidity of the wine, with only subtle oak influence. The extended lees aging contributes to the wine's creamy texture and enhances its depth and mouthfeel, while the restrained oak allows for a seamless integration of flavors.

Tasting Notes

- Color: Pale yellow with bright green reflections.
- Aroma: The nose opens with aromas of ripe orchard fruits such as green apple and pear, intertwined with a distinct mineral note and hints of white pepper.
- Palate: The palate is full-bodied and round, with flavors of stone fruits, citrus, and a touch of exotic spice. The wine's minerality is pronounced, balanced by a vibrant acidity that keeps the wine fresh and lively.
- Finish: The finish is long and structured, with lingering notes of flint, saline, and a subtle citrus bitterness that adds to the wine's complexity and aging potential.

Did You Know?

The name Vergelt's Gott translates to "God bless you" or "Thank you," and is a traditional Austrian expression of gratitude. This wine is a reflection of Martin Muthenthaler's gratitude for the land and its ability to produce such extraordinary wines. The wine, made from old vines, is a testament to his dedication to organic and low-intervention winemaking, ensuring that the unique terroir of Wachau is expressed with authenticity.

Wine Pairing Ideas

- Grilled sea bass with lemon and herbs: The fresh acidity and minerality of the wine complement the delicate flavors of the fish, while its creamy texture balances the richness.
- Asparagus risotto: The herbal and green notes of the Grüner Veltliner enhance the earthy flavors of asparagus, and the wine's acidity cuts through the creaminess of the risotto.
- Roast chicken with thyme: The wine's depth and complexity pair beautifully with the savory and herbaceous qualities of roast chicken, while its acidity balances the richness.
- Goat cheese salad: The bright acidity and minerality of the wine pair well with the tangy, creamy texture of goat cheese, creating a refreshing contrast.

Robert Parker (RP) : 94 Points (2018)

From terraced vineyards beyond the single vineyards and vinified in oval 900-liter oak vats, the 2018 Grüner Veltliner Vergelt's Gott (meaning "thank you") shows an intense yellow color and opens with a clear, deep and fascinating toasty bouquet reminiscent of rendered speck but also herbs and crystalline flint-stone aromas. On the palate, this is a deep, lush and intense, very fine and elegant, quiet Veltliner with great balance and flowing on a very fine and crystalline acidity railway that carries this 2018 to a long, complex and exalted finish. Tasted as a barrel sample a week before the bottling in September 2019.
