Region and Vineyards

The Russian River Valley in Sonoma County is renowned for its cool climate, ideal for producing elegant and balanced Chardonnay. The region's signature fog, which rolls in from the Pacific Ocean, plays a key role in moderating temperatures, allowing grapes to retain acidity while developing complex flavors.

The EnRoute Chardonnay "Brumaire" takes its name from the fog (Brumaire) that envelops the vineyards, creating the perfect conditions for cultivating Chardonnay. The wine is a blend of select clones, including the Wente clone, which adds a rich, oily texture and tropical notes, and the Rued clone, contributing floral aromas. These clones are grown in key areas of the Russian River Valley, such as Green Valley and Sebastopol, where the Goldridge sandy loam soils enhance the freshness and complexity of the fruit.

Winemaking

This 100% Chardonnay was harvested in mid-September, with careful attention to optimal ripeness. The fruit underwent whole cluster pressing, followed by fermentation entirely in French oak barrels. The wine was then aged for 9 months sur lie in French oak barrels (40% new, 60% used once), which imparted a creamy texture and nuanced oak flavors without overpowering the natural fruit character.

The winemaking process emphasizes balance, aiming to retain the bright, fresh acidity of the fruit while adding layers of complexity from the oak and lees aging.
