Una Volta Pinot Noir 2020

Central Otago, New Zealand

Region and Vineyards

The Renaissance Vineyard is located on Felton Road in Bannockburn, Central Otago, renowned for producing Pinot Noir with depth and minerality. This vineyard benefits from a terroir rich in glacial soils including loess, gravel, schist, and quartz, which contribute to the wine's mineral complexity. Planted above the Kawarau River and maintained sustainably, this close-planted vineyard showcases the finesse of Bannockburn, known for long ripening periods that develop intensity and structure in Pinot Noir.

The 2020 vintage provided ideal conditions, combining warm days and cool nights, which helped retain the natural acidity and develop complex flavors in the grapes, reflecting the uniqueness of this site.

Winemaking

The Una Volta Pinot Noir is crafted with a focus on both intensity and elegance. After hand-harvesting, the grapes are processed using a high proportion of whole clusters, which contributes to the wine's structure and subtle tannic edge. Fermentation occurs with indigenous yeasts, allowing the wine to naturally express the vineyard's distinct characteristics. Following fermentation, the wine matures in French oak barrels, with a portion of new oak used to enhance complexity without overshadowing the fruit purity.

The wine is aged for around 12 months in barrel, allowing the flavors to integrate and achieve balance. Bottled without filtration, the Una Volta Pinot Noir captures the essence of the Renaissance Vineyard, offering a depth of flavor that speaks to its Bannockburn origins.

Vinous (Antonio Galloni) (VN) : 93 Points (2020)

The 2020 Una Volta Pinot Noir is sourced from a parcel on Felton Road. It is open and fluid with a sense of plumpness and fruit generosity held together with a tension and line holding its shape. There's woody herbs and lifted florals from the whole bunches alongside cherry fruit, black tea, nutmeg and cloves on the drawn out finish. The concluding impression is one of freshness, sinew and pep.

James Suckling (JS) : 92 Points (2020)

Very succulent and juicy with plums and ripe strawberries with some orange peel undertones. Medium to full body. Round and creamy tannins and an enjoyable finish. Hard not to drink now. Sustainable. Drink or hold. Screw cap.
