Region and Vineyards

Grace Winery is located in the Yamanashi Prefecture, the birthplace of the Japanese wine industry. The vineyards are situated in the Hishiyama district at the highest altitude of the Katsunuma region, ranging from 500 to 600 meters above sea level. The soil in this area is diverse, featuring a mix of alluvial and granite components, which provide excellent drainage and contribute to the distinctive minerality of the wine .

The Katsunuma area benefits from a warm climate that promotes healthy grape development. The vineyard's complex terrain and high altitude allow for significant diurnal temperature variation, enhancing the aromatic profile and preserving the acidity of the grapes. Grace Winery employs sustainable and organic farming practices, using modern techniques such as long cordon training to optimize canopy management and control yields, which helps concentrate the flavors and sugars in the grapes .

Winemaking

The winemaking process for the Hishiyama Vineyard Private Reserve Koshu begins with the careful hand-harvesting of the grapes at optimum maturity. The grapes are then gently pressed in a pneumatic press to preserve their delicate flavors. Fermentation takes place in stainless steel tanks at controlled temperatures to maintain the natural acidity and pure fruit characteristics of the Koshu grape .

Maturation continues in stainless steel tanks to enhance the wine's clarity and freshness without introducing any external flavors. This process ensures that the final product retains its vibrant acidity and showcases the true essence of the Koshu grape and its terroir .
