Cuvée Cinéma Pinot Noir 2022

Walker Bay, South Africa

Region and Vineyards

The Cuvée Cinéma Pinot Noir is produced from a single vineyard located in the Hemel-en-Aarde Ridge area, at an altitude of 300 meters above sea level. This elevated site is one of the highest in the region, benefiting from a moderate climate that extends the ripening period, allowing for a late harvest and optimal flavor development. The vineyard is situated on a southeast-facing slope, which receives cooling breezes from nearby Walker Bay, imparting a characteristic freshness and vibrancy to the wine.

The vineyard is planted with Dijon clones of Pinot Noir, chosen for their ability to produce concentrated, complex fruit. The clay and shale soils of the site naturally limit vine vigor and reduce crop levels, enhancing the intensity of the fruit. The combination of elevation, soil type, and cool coastal influences creates a unique terroir, reflected in the Cuvée Cinéma's balance of ripe fruit, fresh acidity, and savory complexity.

Winemaking

The Cuvée Cinéma Pinot Noir was crafted with a focus on minimal intervention to highlight the purity of the fruit. The grapes were hand-harvested and fermented using indigenous yeasts in stainless steel tanks. About 60% of the fruit was left as whole clusters, which contributed to the wine's structure and phenolic grip. This method enhances the wine's complexity by adding a slight tannic edge and savory nuances.

Following fermentation, the wine was aged for 11 months in 228-litre old French oak barrels. The use of older oak ensures that the oak influence remains subtle, allowing the wine's fruit character and natural freshness to shine through. The result is a wine that is elegant and precise, with layers of spice, fruit, and savory elements unfolding over time.

Robert Parker (RP) : 95 Points (2022)

Opening to a darker, red-fruited nose, the 2022 Cuvée Cinema Pinot Noir leaps out of the glass with notes of potpourri and black tea with hints of oak spice. Medium-bodied, the palate offers a firm-gripping tannic edge and bright acidity that will either need time or food; I suspect both. It's still a baby and super tight, so be patient, give it time and start enjoying it in 2025. Just over 5,500 bottles were filled after resting for about a year in all French oak, 25% new. I can see where this is headed, and it's an absolute crusher of a bottle. Your patience will be rewarded.

Tim Atkin (TA) : 95 Points (2019)

Cuvée Cinéma is sourced from the top end of the Hemel-en-Aarde Valley from a clay-shales vineyard planted in 2009. The stems were unusually mature in 2019, so Peter-Allan Finlayson added 70% whole bunches. The result is sappy, spicy and quite dense, with effortless concentration, black cherry and plum fruit, sinewy tannins and good ageing potential. Drink 2022-29.

Vinous (Antonio Galloni) (VN) : 93 Points (2019)

The 2019 Cuvée Cinéma was fermented using only native yeasts and a 70/30 ratio of whole clusters to whole berries in a stainless steel tank. The wine was then transferred to barrel (25% new), where it remained for 11 months before bottling. It has an open and expressive bouquet of pure red cherries, red currant and rose petal aromas, blossoming with aeration. The palate is medium-bodied with grippy tannins and wonderful symmetry at play on the precise and almost Morey-Saint-Denis like finish. Excellent. Drink 2023-33.
