

Duemani

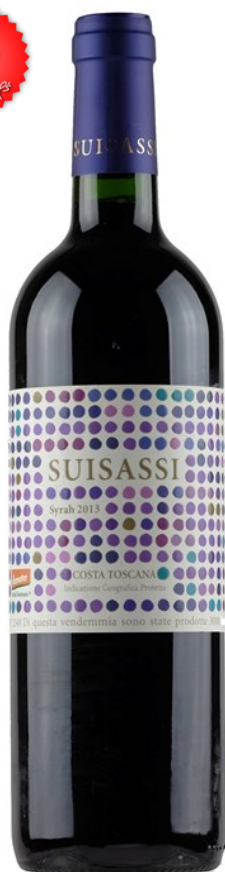

Suisassi 2018

Tuscany, Italy

Pure Syrah, that grows in the heart of our estate, a goblet vineyard where the quantity of stones is massive.

The expression of the grape is stunning: plums, blueberry, black spicy, licorice, smoked notes, hide. The wine comes forward mysteriously and gives a pyrotechnic finish.

Suisassi 2018

Robert Parker (RP) : 96 Points (2018)

One of the icons of the Tuscan coast, this wine is a pioneer in organic and biodynamic farming, especially in this neck of the woods. The Duemani 2018 Syrah Suisassi is beautifully generous and full-bodied. The wine delivers uninterrupted waves of black and purple fruit, all followed up by spice, baker's chocolate and softly cured tobacco. As is the case with Luca D'Attoma's Cabernet Franc Duemani that I also tasted as an unfinished wine, I am pleased to say that these final results more than delivered on my expectations. This is mostly thanks to the wine's balance and power.

Vinous (Antonio Galloni) (VN) : 96 Points (2016)

The 2016 Suisassi brings together power and freshness to a degree that is quite rare on the coast. Inky dark purplish fruit, leather, licorice, plum, lavender and spice come together in a deep Syrah endowed with tremendous concentration as well as power. Time in the glass brings out the wine's explosive energy and tension. The 30% whole clusters are evident, but not overly so.

James Suckling (JS) : 97 Points (2015)

The blackberries and cloves are intense on the nose with licorice and hints of eucalyptus, too. Full body, extremely fine tannins and citrus rind undertones. Tight and composed. I love the length. Drink now. (8/2017)
